

Sportsbiz

Free professional advice and mentoring for not-for-profit sport and recreation organisations

Sport and Recreation has been offering strategic business and management advice and assistance to not-for-profit sport and recreation organisations through Sportsbiz since February 2005. This service continues to assist in the development of stronger foundations for clubs and peak bodies towards future sustainability.

Sportsbiz has developed its services further now to include a combined advice and mentoring service designed to work closely with small, medium and large clubs and peak bodies. This will enable identified officers or volunteers from your organisation to receive one-to-one assistance with governance, management and operational aspects such as understanding obligations and responsibilities regarding:

- Organisational planning
- Financial management
- Accounting functions
- Marketing and promotion
- Risk management
- Governance structures
- Board/Committee representation
- Constitution changes
- Managing resources
